Website Prototype

1. The purpose of this webpage is for a public figure/client's landing page for their social media/projects/work. (substitution for a linktree account). An attached rotating mood board of theirs that inspires their work will be included at the bottom.
2. The goal is to clearly display all channels of the client's work and personal media pages.
3. Engagement could be hindered if there are too many displays/links to choose from, the user could get overwhelmed and leave the site all together. The main driving force for the page would be interest in the individual, the site being linked in their instagram bio for example.
4. Strong links that are not broken and take users to the correct areas, visually easily to digest and follow, etc/
5. The client's name/logo on first display, social media links, images included to display brand.
